ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

LUCHA is a youth movement that was created in Goma, the provincial capital of North Kivu in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC), in 2012. The movement is known for its peaceful actions. They organize sit-ins, demonstrations and other actions to claim their rights and those of the people of DRC.

Earlier this year, four LUCHA activists were given a six months suspended sentence for having participated in a peaceful protest for the release of their colleagues Fred Bauma and Yves Makwambala, who were held in incommunicado detention in Kinshasa at the time. Fred Bauma and Yves Makwambala, considered prisoners of conscience by Amnesty International, remain in detention in Makala prison, Kinshasa.
