Amnesty International has learned that Cut Sari, who was arrested from her home in Pidie on 12 April 1998, was released from custody around two weeks ago. It is not clear where she had been detained.

M Hasyim, who was abducted from his home on 27 March by four men believed to be from the military, has also been released from custody. There are no details available regarding when he was released or where he was detained.

No further action is required from the UA network on these cases. Thank you to all who sent appeals on behalf of Cut Sari and M Hasyim.
