RE: RECRUITMENT - TELECOMMUNICATIONS PROJECT COORDINATOR

Amnesty International needs a Telecommunications Project Coordinator to be responsible for a 2-year project to develop a worldwide PC-based telecommunications network. You will plan and implement telecommunication hardware and software to link over 50 offices, including electronic mail, automated fax and telex, and public networks.

You have at least 2 year's experience in system and telecommunications support and have a sound knowledge of the PC DOS Environment; experience in Novell networks and MHS Software or similar software is particularly desirable. You have strong planning and work management skills, and can work independently. You have a good command of English, excellent oral and written communication skills, and can train and support non-technical users. You must be based in London but must be able to devote up to 30% of your time to international travel.

CLOSING DATE: 16 AUGUST 1991 REF NO: ISD-3
