news.amnesty launches new "video and audio" page

Amnesty International's news website for journalists, news.amnesty, has launched a new section. The dedicated "video and audio" page collects together the twenty most recent audio and video clips published on the site. More material will be added as it is produced.

This material aims to illustrate AI's concerns and actions in an interesting and easily accessible way. The page also includes links to OneWorld Radio (<http://radio.oneworld.net>), where radio broadcasters can download broadcast quality mp3s of the audio clips.

The "video and audio" page can be found at: <http://news.amnesty.org/pages/video-audio> or simply by clicking the link on the main news.amnesty page - <http://news.amnesty.org>
