Vision

Amnesty International's vision is of a world in which every person enjoys all of the human rights enshrined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and other international human rights instruments.

Mission

In pursuit of this vision, Amnesty International's mission is to undertake research and action focused on preventing and ending grave abuses of these rights.

Values

Amnesty International forms a global community of human rights defenders based on the principles of international solidarity, effective action for the individual victim, global coverage, the universality and indivisibility of human rights, impartiality and independence, and democracy and mutual respect.

Primary brands

Amnesty International seeks to expose human rights abuses accurately, quickly and persistently. We address governments, intergovernmental organizations, armed political groups, companies and other non-state actors. We systematically and impartially research the facts of individual cases and patterns of human rights abuses. These findings are publicized, and members, supporters and staff mobilize public pressure on governments and others to stop the abuses. In addition to its work on specific abuses of human rights, Amnesty International urges all governments and all relevant powers to observe the rule of law, and to ratify and implement human rights standards; it carries out a wide range of human rights education activities; and it encourages intergovernmental organizations, individuals, and all organs of society to support and respect human rights.

Major programmes

During 2008 and 2009, our world wide strategic programme focused on key global campaigns:

- A campaign to Stop Violence Against Women
- A campaign to Counter Torture with Justice
- A campaign for human dignity which is promoting respect for the human rights of those living in poverty
- Campaigning against the Death Penalty
- Campaigning for human rights accountability by corporate actors
- Campaigning with others for an effective global Arms Trade Treaty
- A campaign of human rights celebration and challenge on the occasion of the 60th Anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights

We also monitored and researched human rights across 157 countries annually, publishing our findings in detail where appropriate and a summary of this work is available in our annual AI report on the state of the world’s human rights and on our website, amnesty.org.
Core activities

Our campaigning and research are fact based, supported by a range of activities. For example, we:
- Send experts to talk with victims
- Observe trials
- Interview local officials
- Liaise with human rights activists
- Monitor global and local media
- Publish detailed reports
- Inform the news media
- Publicize our concerns in documents, leaflets, posters, advertisements, newsletters and websites

We help stop human rights abuses by mobilizing the public to put pressure on governments, armed political groups, companies and intergovernmental bodies via:
- Public demonstrations
- Vigils
- Letter-writing campaigns
- Human rights education
- Awareness-raising
- Direct lobbying
- Targeted appeals
- Email petitions and other online actions
- Partnerships with local campaigning groups
- Community activities
- Work with youth groups

Ownership and legal form

Amnesty International is a worldwide movement based on voluntary membership and composed of independent legal entities being, national sections and structures and the International Secretariat. The International Secretariat comprises two separate legal entities incorporated in the UK, of both a charitable and non-charitable company. The International Secretariat has a main office in London and eleven small branch offices, or equivalent, around the world.

Operational structure

Including roles & responsibilities of global and national entities

The Amnesty International movement comprises as described of national sections and structures and the International Secretariat. Sections and structures carry out work to promote human rights in their own countries in accordance with Amnesty International’s Statute. The International Secretariat provides key research and action functions and coordinates Amnesty International’s day-to-day work at the global level.

Location and address of global headquarters/secretariat

The work of the organization’s governing body takes place in a clearly defined framework of rules and procedures covering the appointment, responsibilities and terms of members of the governing body.

The organization’s statute, bylaws, terms of reference for the governing body, and relevant policies and procedures:
- identify required qualifications and expertise of the members of the governing body and the mix of skills across the group,
- specify the frequency of meetings of the governing body (at least two meetings per year),
- specify adequate attendance by directors (at least a majority of directors on average), and
- lay down voting requirements
- provide a process for evaluating the governance body’s own performance.

Records of the meetings provide evidence that meetings were held and which decisions were taken.

A regular general meeting takes place with authority to appoint and replace members of the governing body.
