"Justice only in heaven" – End the death penalty in Uzbekistan

In November 2003 AI launched a series of actions including this web action to draw attention to the findings of AI's report 'Justice only in Heaven' - the death penalty in Uzbekistan and to urge the Uzbek authorities to end the death penalty in their country. Since the last update in May 2004 Amnesty International has learnt that the death sentence of Nodirbek Karimov has also been commuted. Iskandar Khudoberganov is still on death row. The authorities have reportedly given assurances to the United Nations Human Rights Committee not to execute Iskandar Khudoberganov while his case is under consideration by the Committee.

Amnesty International is continuing to campaign for an end of the death penalty in Uzbekistan.
