Further Information on UA/96/07 (ASA 21/005/2007, 23 April 2007) – Imminent Execution

INDONESIA

Ayub Bulubili (m), aged 40

Ayub Bulubili was executed by firing squad on 28 April at 1.30am local time. The location of the execution was not officially disclosed by the authorities, but a prison warden reportedly revealed that he was executed in Central Kalimantan province. Ayub Bulubili was sentenced to death for the premeditated murder of a family of six people.

According to reports, Ayub Bulubili was buried shortly after his death at an undisclosed location near the place where he was executed. He participated to a religious service held at Palangkaraya prison a few hours before being executed.

At least 90 people are believed to be under sentence of death in Indonesia. Ayub Bulubili's execution is the first of 2007 and raises fears that it might soon be followed by others.

No further action is required in this case. Many thanks to all those who have sent appeals.
