This microfilm is the copyright of

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL

and may not be reproduced without permission.

MICROFORMAT UK LIMITED: 2010

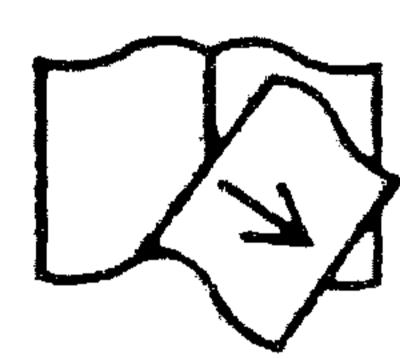

In the creation of this Microfilm record it may have been necessary to use graphic symbols to indicate defects or abnormalities with the original material. To assist the user a key to these symbols is given below.

: Signifies that the original document is difficult to read and/or has a tight binding.

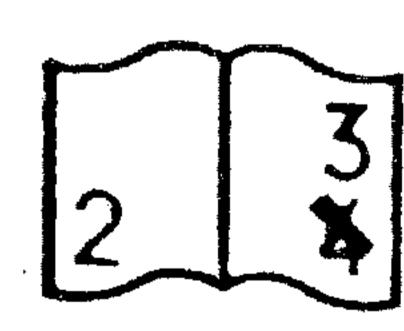

: Signifies that the original document is damaged and/or wrongly bound.

: Signifies that pages or parts of a sequence are missing.

: Signifies that an image has been deliberately repeated.

: Signifies that the indicated sequence of a document is incorrect.

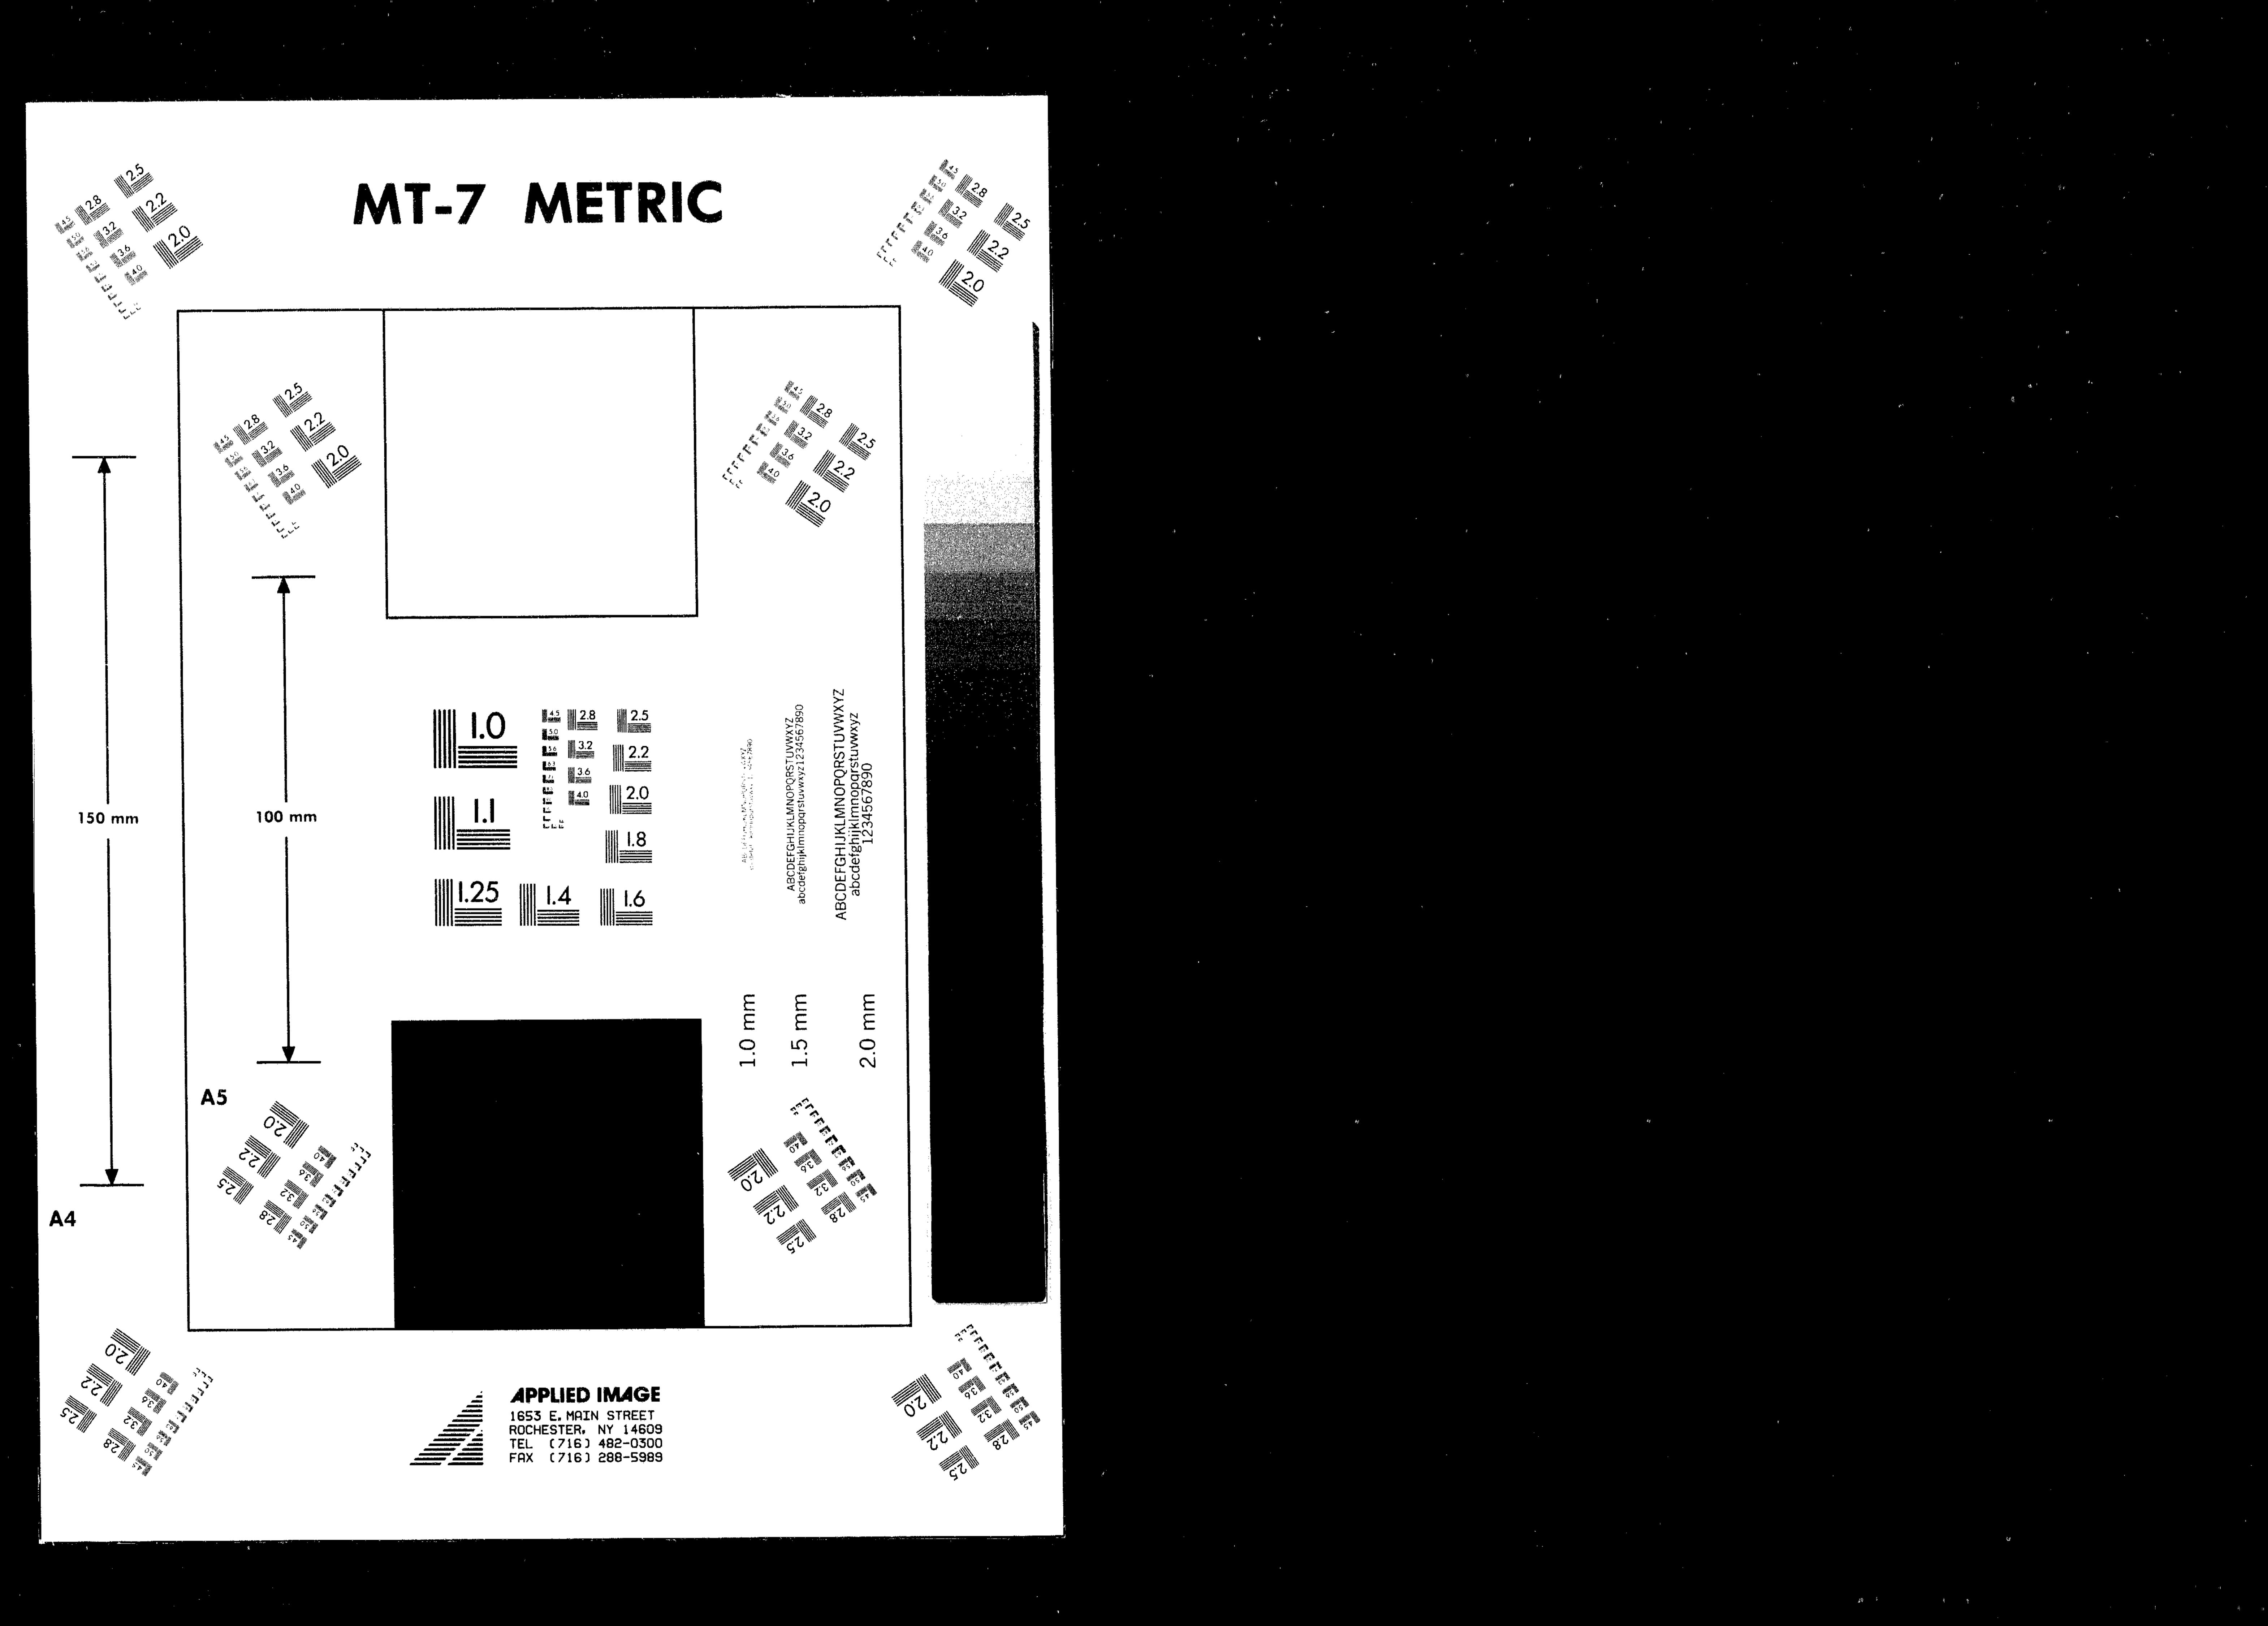

: Signifies that the original is in colour.

MICROFORMAT (UK) LTD

PUBLICATIONS

1962-1985

ACT 80/003/1983

COPUBOX 13A

wspaper, L. May 1961. Articles s publicized the appeal "rely achieved wide Benenson publich from Peter prisoners immediately newspaper auonal grew forgotten Observer ne uropean newspapers Benenson's idea imm support. Internationa arris, Monde, P. European the appeal for the nounced in The international Amnesty In anneal for appeal in Le and

13 ammistie des ame C 17 AUGUSTUS 1961

III.80 ZESTIEN PAGIN | DOUIT

INKSDEEL OVERZEE Lichtoorlog", tot

Le Monde 1. 28/29 mayer. Sulfit Contract of the second HICKOPELL OVERLOE

JUCTIONALISE

OF CONTRAIN A LOCATE HEATER IN: 4th monte Un group of the contribution of HE WILLIAM Drisonnier. Campagne luni du monde Un groupe de soutier datre constitué à Paris.

In de mes de régimes différents dans dittiele dres. Ce sont ceux d'Istvan Bibacupe grois ancien membre du cabinet grois ancien de la libre démocration de du Vietnam et de Robert go.

L'organisation Appel à l'anne L'organisation Appel à l'anne devise la formule de Voltaire i leit suis prêt à mourir pour que vous 'ul grees le droit de les exprimer a l'anne greis avez le droit de les exprimer a l'annon solent jugées légalement et l'application de la conven r'isées à chercher asile à l'étran lleit l'homme et l'application de la conven cul l'homme et l'application de l'homme et l'application par les sont fout de cheb l'homme et l'application de l'homme sont également au nombre des droits de l'homme cella

The state of the s

Seit langem führen wir cheren Seiltanz um die Erhreiheit auf. Denn sobald sit, greifen Antwort und Aft, greifen Antwort und Antwort und Afterhoden, die jenen aus der er totalitären Staaten oft all ind. So schrumpft das Reich eit fortgesetzt im Namen de Der Mensch aber, der wegen sinnung ins Gefängnis gerät, vergessen. Ein paar Schlagzei Zeitungen, momentanes Auund Empörung — dann rühr kein Gewissen mehr. Wo Gew Gewalt nichts ausrichten kanr wir machtlos.

Diesen tödlichen Ring will c sprengen. Das Gewissen der aufgerüttelt werden für j wegen seiner Gesinnung, seine oder seiner Farbe Unrecht Alle, die der Menschenverfolg dig wurden, mag das Syste heid heißen oder rote Dik

The state of the s

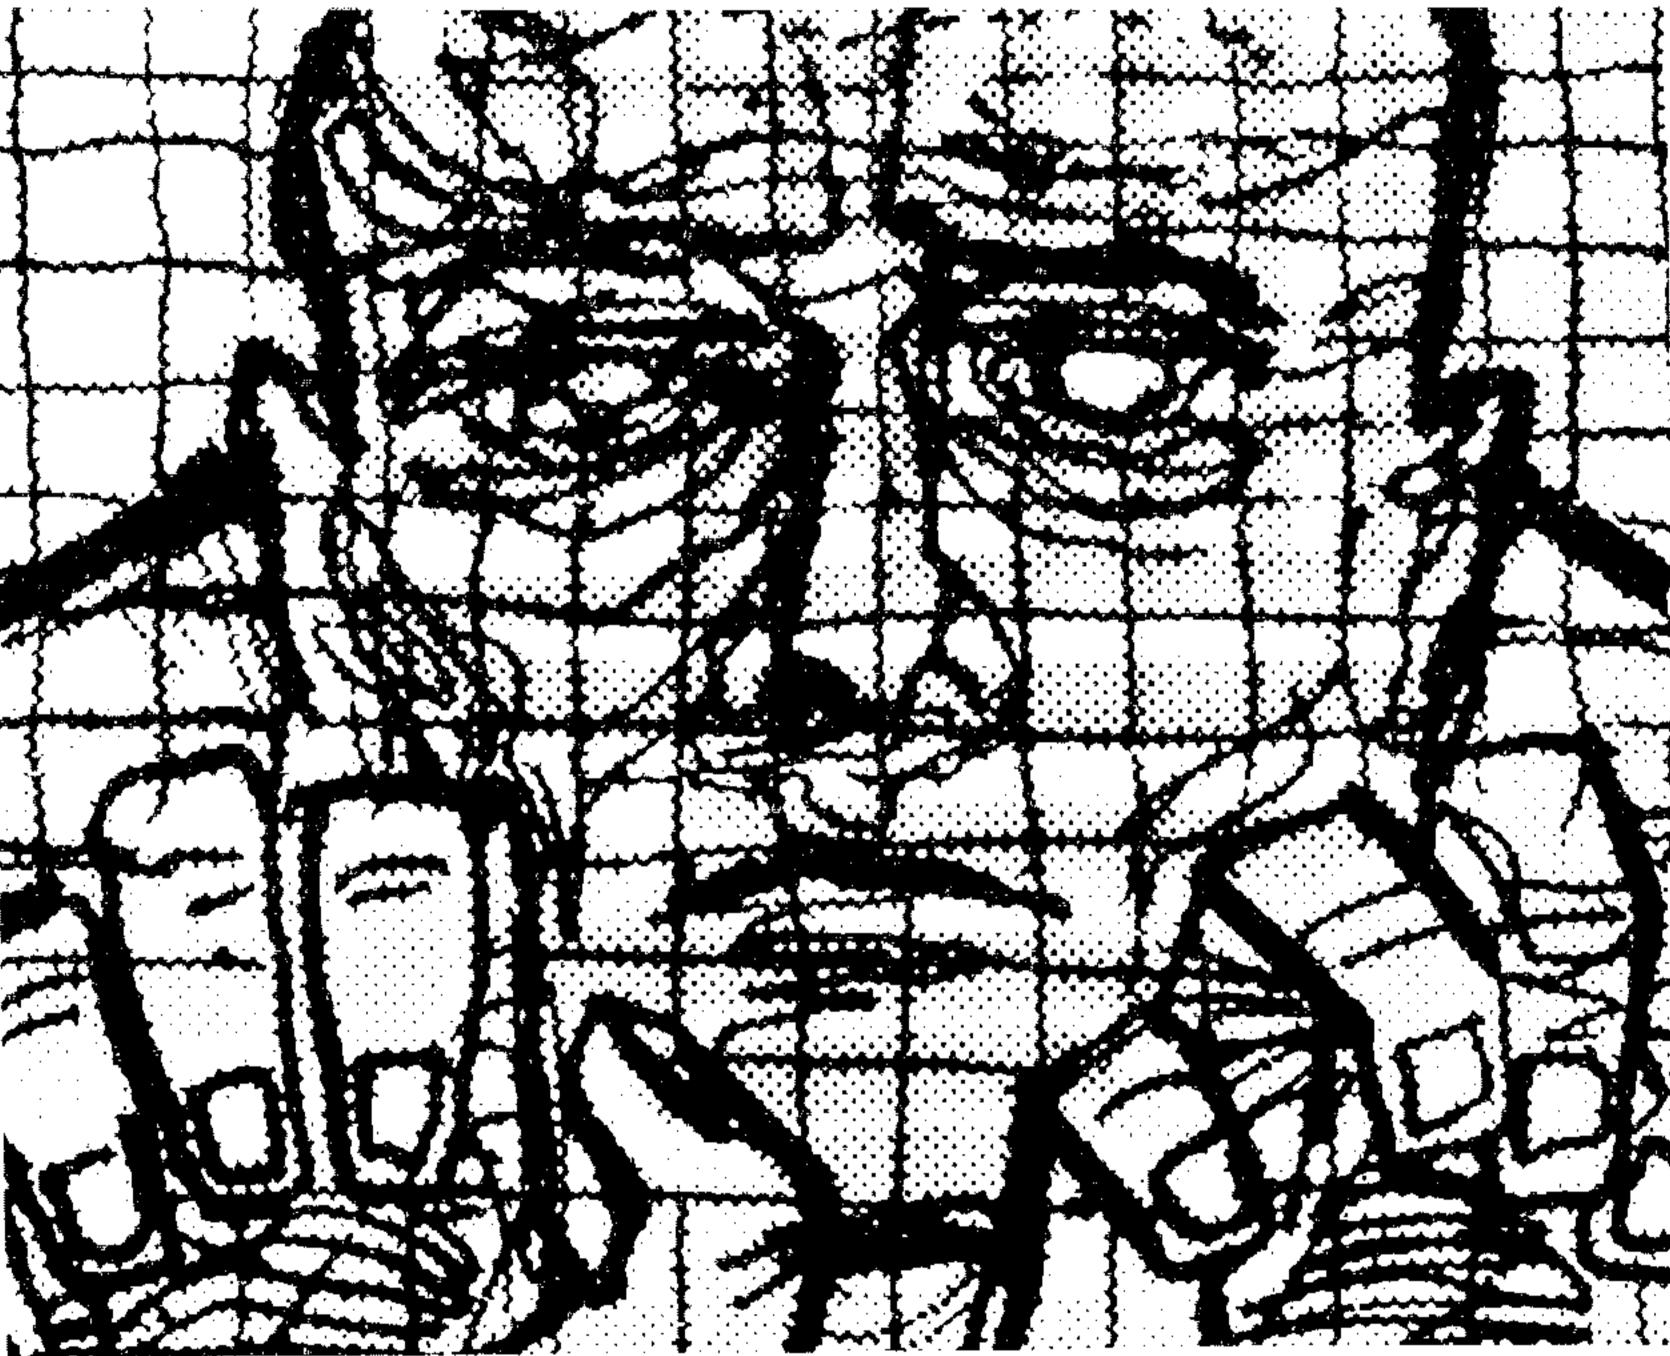

SIN POLITICAL PRISONERS: left, Constantin Noica, the philosopher, now in a Rumanian gaof: centre, the Rev. Ashton Jones, friend of the Negroes, recently in gaol in the United States; right, Agostino Neto, Angolan poet and doctor, held without trial by the Portuguese. Their cases are described in the article below.

ON BOTH SIDES of the Iron Curtain, thousands of men and women are being held in gaol without trial because their political or religious views differ from those of their Governments. Peter Benenson, a London lawyer, conceived the idea of a world campaign, APPEAL FOR AMNESTY, 1961, to urge Governments to release these people or at least give them a fair trial. The campaign opens to-day, and "The Observer" is glad to offer it a platform.

London, Sunday, May 28, 1961

The Forgotten Prisoners

OPEN your newspaper any day of the week and you will find a report from somewhere in the world of someone being imprisoned, tortured or executed because his opinions or religion are unacceptable to his government. There are several million such people in prison—by no means all of them behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains and their numbers are growing. The newspaper reader feels a sickening sense of impotence. Yet if these feelings of disgust all over the world could be united into common action, something effective could be done.

In 1945 the founder members of the United Nations approved the Universal Declaration of Human Rights: --

Article 18.—Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience and religion; this right includes freedom to change his religion or belief, and freedom either alone or in company with others in public or private. to manifest his religion or belief in teaching practice, worship and observance.

Article 19.—Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart aformation and ideas through any

There is a growing tendency all over the world to disguise the real grounds upon which "non-conformists" are imprisoned. In Spain, students who circulate leaflets calling for the right to hold discussions on affairs are charged with "military rebellion." In Hungary, Catholic priests who have tried to keep their choir schools open have been charged with "homosexuality." These cover-up charges indicate that governments are by no means insensitive to the pressure of outside opinion. And when world opinion is concentrated on one weak spot, it can sometimes succeed in making a government relent. For instance, the Hungarian poet Tibor Dery was recently released after the formation of "Tibor Dery committees" in many countries; and Professor Tierno Galvan and his literary friends were acquitted in Spain this March, after the arrival of some distinguished foreign observers.

London office to gather facts

The important thing is to mobilise public opinion quickly, and widely, before a government is caught up in the vicious spiral caused by its own repression, and is faced with im-

campaign, which opens to-day, is the result of an initiative by a group of lawyers, writers and publishers in London, who share the underlying conviction expressed by Voltaire: "I detest your views, but am prepared to die for your right to express them." We have set up an office in London to collect information about the names, numbers and conditions of what we have decided to call Prisoners of Conscience," and we define them thus: "Any person who is physically restrained (by imprisonment or otherwise) from expressing (in any form of words or symbols) any opinion which he honestly holds and which does not advocate or condone personal violence." We also exclude those who have conspired with a foreign government to overthrow their own. Our office will from time to time hold Press conferences to focus attention on Prisoners of Conscience selected impartially from different parts of the world. And it will provide factual information to any group, existing or new, in any part of the world, which decides to join in a special effort in favour of freedom of opinion or religion.

In October a Penguin Special called "Persecution 1961" will be published as part of our Amnesty campaign. In it are stories of nine

Amat, who tried to build a coalition of democratic groups, and has been in prison without trial since November, 1958; and of two white men persecuted by their own race for preaching that the coloured races should have equal rights—Ashton Jones, the sixty-five-year-old minister, who last year was repeatedly beaten-up and three times imprisoned in Louisiana and Texas for doing what the Freedom Riders are now doing in Alabama; and Patrick Duncan, the son of a former South African Governor-General, after three stays in prison, has just been served with an order forbidding him from attending or addressing any meeting for five years.

'Find out who is

The technique of publicising the personal stories of a number of prisoners of contrasting politics is a new one. It has been adopted to avoid the fate of previous amnesty campaigns, which so often have become more concerned with publicising the political views of the imprisoned than with humanitarian

How can we discover the state of freedom in the world to-day? The out who is in gaol." This is hard advice to follow, because there are few governments which welcome inquiries about the number of Prisoners of Conscience they hold in prison. But another test of freedom one can apply is whether the Press is allowed to criticise the government. Even many democratic governments are surprisingly sensitive to Press criticism. In France, General de Gaulle has intensified newspaper seizures, a policy he inherited from the Fourth Republic. In Britain and the United States occasional attempts are made to draw the sting of Press criticism by the technique of taking editors into confidence about a " security secret," as in the Blake spy case.

Within the British Commonwealth, the Government of Ceylon has launched an attack on the Press. and is threatening to take the whole industry under public control. Pakistan the Press is at the mercy of the Martial Law administration. In Ghana, the opposition Press operates under great disabilities. In South Africa, which leaves the Commonwealth on Wednesday, the government is planning further legislation to censor publications. Outside the Commonwealth, Press freedom is especially in peril in Indo-now a political refugee trapped in the United States Embassy, Budapest. lawyer is able to present the defence in the way he thinks best. In recent years there has been a regrettable trend in some of those countries that take pride in possessing an independent judiciary: by declaring a state of emergency and taking their opponents into "preventive detention," governments have side-stepped the need to make and prove criminal charges. At the other extreme there is the enthusiasm in Soviet countries to set up institutions which, though called courts, are really nothing of the sort. The so-called "comradely courts" in the U.S.S.R., which have power to deal with "parasites," are in essence little more than departments of the Ministry of Labour,

Left, Archbishop Beran of Prague, held in custody by the Czechs; centre, Toni

Ambatielos, the Greek Communist and trade unionist prisoner, whose wife is

English: right Cardinal Mindszenty, Primate of Hungary, formerly a prisoner and migration of labour by an allegedly judicial process is on a gigantic scale. The most rapid way of bringing relief to Prisoners of Conscience is publicity, especially publicity among their fellow-citizens. With the pressure of emergent nationalism and the tensions of the Cold War, there are bound to be situations where governments are led to take emergency measures to protect their existence. It is vital that public opinion should insist that these measures should not be excessive. nor prolonged after the moment of danger. If the emergency is to last long time, then a government should be induced to allow its opponents out of prison, to seel asylum abroad.

shifting "square pegs" into empty holes in Siberia. In China the trans-

Frontier control more efficient

Although there are no statistics. it is likely that recent years have seen a steady decrease in the number of people reaching asylum. This is not so much due to the unwillingness of other countries to offer shelter, as to the greatly increased efficiency of frontier control, which to-day makes it harder for people to get away. Attempts to reach agreement on a workable international convention on asylum at United Nations have dragged on for many years with little result.

There is also the problem of labour restrictions on immigrants in many countries. So long as work is not available in "host" countries.

willing to give out translation and correspondence work to refugees. but no machinery to link supply with demand. Those regimes that refuse to allow their nationals to seek asylum on the ground that they go abroad only to conspire, might be less reluctant if they knew that, on arrival, the refugees would not be kicking their heels in idle frustration.

The members of the Council of Europe have agreed a Convention of Human Rights, and set up a commission to secure its enforcement. Some countries have accorded to their citizens the right to approach the commission individually. But some, including Britain, have refused to accept the jurisdiction of the commission over individual complaints. and France has refused to ratify the Convention at all. Public opinion should insist on the establishment of effective supra-national machinery not only in Europe but on similar lines in other continents.

This is an especially suitable year for an Amnesty Campaign. It is the centenary of President Lincoln's inauguration, and of the beginning of the Civil War which ended with the liberation of the American slaves; it is also the centenary of the decree that emancipated the Russian serfs. A hundred years ago Mr. Gladstone's budget swept away the oppressive duties on newsprint and so enlarged the range and freedom of the Press; 1861 marked the end of the tyranny of King "Bomba" of Naples, and the creation of a united Italy; it was also the year of the death of Lacordaire, the French Dominican oppon-Bourbon and Orleanist

The success of the 1961 Amnesty Campaign depends on how sharply and powerfully it is possible to rally public opinion. It depends, too, upon the campaign being allembracing in its composition, international in character and politically impartial in direction. Any group is welcome to take part which is prepared to condemn persecution regardless of where it occurs, who is responsible or what are the ideas suppressed. How much can be achieved when men and women of good will unite was shown during World Refugee Year. Inevitably most of the action called for by Appeal for Amnesty, 1961, can only be taken by governments But ex-disgust all over the world could be united into common action, something effective could be done.

In 1945 the founder members of the United Nations approved the Universal Declaration of Human

Article 18.—Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience and religion; this right includes freedom to change his religion or belief, and freedom either alone or in company with others in public or private. to manifest his religion or belief in teaching practice, worship and observance.

Article 19.- Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.

There is at present no sure way of finding out how many countries permit their citizens to enjoy these two fundamental freedoms. What matters is not the rights that exist on paper in the Constitution, but whether they can be exercised and enforced in practice. No government, for instance, is at greater pains to emphasise its constitutional guarantees than the Spanish, but it fails to apply them.

sensitive to the pressure of outside opinion. And when world opinion is concentrated on one weak spot, it can sometimes succeed in making a government relent. For instance, the Hungarian poet Tibor Dery was recently released after the formation "Tibor Dery committees" in many countries; and Professor Tierno Galvan and his literary friends were acquitted in Spain this March, after the arrival of some distinguished foreign observers.

London office to gather facts

The important thing is to mobilise public opinion quickly, and widely, before a government is caught up in the vicious spiral caused by its own repression, and is faced with impending civil war. By then the situation will have become too desperate for the government to make conces-The force of opinion, to be effective, should be broadly based. international, non-sectarian and allparty. Campaigns in favour of freedom brought by one country, or party, against another, often achieve nothing but an intensification of

That is why we have started Appeal for Amnesty, 1961. The is physically restrained (by imprison. ment or otherwise) from expressing (in any form of words or symbols) any opinion which he honestly holds and which does not advocate or condone personal violence." We also exclude those who have conspired with a foreign government to overthrow their own. Our office will from time to time hold Press conferences to focus attention on Prisoners of Conscience selected impartially from a different parts of the world. And it will provide factual information to any group, existing or new, in any part of the world, which decides to join in a special effort in favour of freedom of opinion or religion.

In October a Penguin Special called "Persecution 1961" will be published as part of our Amnesty campaign. In it are stories of nine men and women from different parts of the world, of varying political and religious outlook, who have been suffering imprisonment for expressing their opinions. None of them is a professional politician; all of them are professional people. The opinions which have brought them to prison are the common coinage of argument in free society.

Poet flogged in front of family

One story is of the revolting brutality with which Angola's leading poet, Agostino Neto, was treated before the present disturbances there broke out. Dr. Neto was one of the five African doctors in Angola. His efforts to improve the health services for his fellow Africans were unacceptable to the Portuguese. In June last year the Political Police marched into his house, had him flogged in front of his family and then dragged away. He has since been in prison in the Cape Verde Isles without charge or trial.

From Rumania, we shall print the story of Constantin Noica, the philosopher, who was sentenced to twenty-five years' imprisonment because, while "rusticated," his friends and pupils continued to visit him, to listen to his talk on philosophy and literature. The book will also tell of the Spanish lawyer. Antonio been served with an order forbidding him from attending or addressing any meeting for five years. as in the Blake spy case. " Within the British Common-

'Find out who is

The technique of publicising the personal stories of a number of prisoners of contrasting politics is a new one. It has been adopted to avoid the fate of previous amnesty campaigns, which so often have become more concerned with publicising the political views of the imprisoned than with humanitarian

Duncan, the son of a former South

after three stays in prison, has just

African Governor-General,

How can we discover the state of freedom in the world to-day? The American philosopher, John Dewey, once said, "If you want to establish some conception of a society, go find

Appeal for Amnesty, 1961

THE AIMS

- To work impartially for the release of those imprisoned for their opinions.
- 2. To seek for them a fair and public trial.
- 3. To enlarge the Right of Asylum and help political refugees to find work.

To urge effective international machinery to guarantee freedom of opinion,

To these ends, an office has been set up in London to collect and publish information about Prisoners of Conscience all over the world. The first Press Conference of the campaign will be held to-morrow, where speakers will include three M.P.s. John Foster, Q.C. (Con.), F. Elwyn Jones, Q.C. (Lab.), and Jeremy Thorpe from the Fourth Republic. Britain and the United States occasional attempts are made to draw the sting of Press criticism by the technique of taking editors into confidence about a " security secret," wealth, the Government of Ceylon has launched an attack on the Press, and is threatening to take the whole industry under public control. i Pakistan the Press is at the mercy of the Martial Law administration. In Ghana, the opposition Press operates under great disabilities. I South Africa, which leaves the Commonwealth on Wednesday, the government is planning further legislation to censor publications. Outside the Commonwealth, Press freedom is especially in peril in Indonesia, the Arab world, and Latin American countries such as Cuba. In the Communist world, and in Spain and Portugal, Press criticism the Government is rarely tolerated.

All offers of help and information should be sent to: Appeal for Amnesty, I. Mitre Court Buildings, Temple, E.C.4.

Churchill's dictum on democracy

Another test of freedom is whether the government permits a political opposition. The post-war years have seen the spread of "personal regimes" across Asia and Africa. Wherever an opposition party is prevented from putting up candidates. or from verifying the election results. much more than its own future is at stake. Multi-party elections may be cumbrous in practice, and the risk of coalitions makes for unstable government; but no other way has yet been found to guarantee freedom to minorities or safety to nonconformists. Whatever truth there may be in the old remark that democracy does not fit well with emergent nationalism, we should also remember Winston Churchill's dietum: "Democracy is a damned bad system of government, but nobody has thought of a better."

A fourth test of freedom is. whether those accused of offences against the State receive a speedy and public trial before an impartial court; whether they are allowed to call witnesses, and whether their

Frontier control more efficient

Although there are no statistics. it is likely that recent years have seen a steady decrease in the number of people reaching asylum. This is not so much due to the unwillingness of other countries to offer shelter, as to the greatly increased efficiency of frontier control, which to-day makes it harder for people to get away. Attempts to reach agreement on a workable international convention on asylum at United Nations have dragged on for many years with little result.

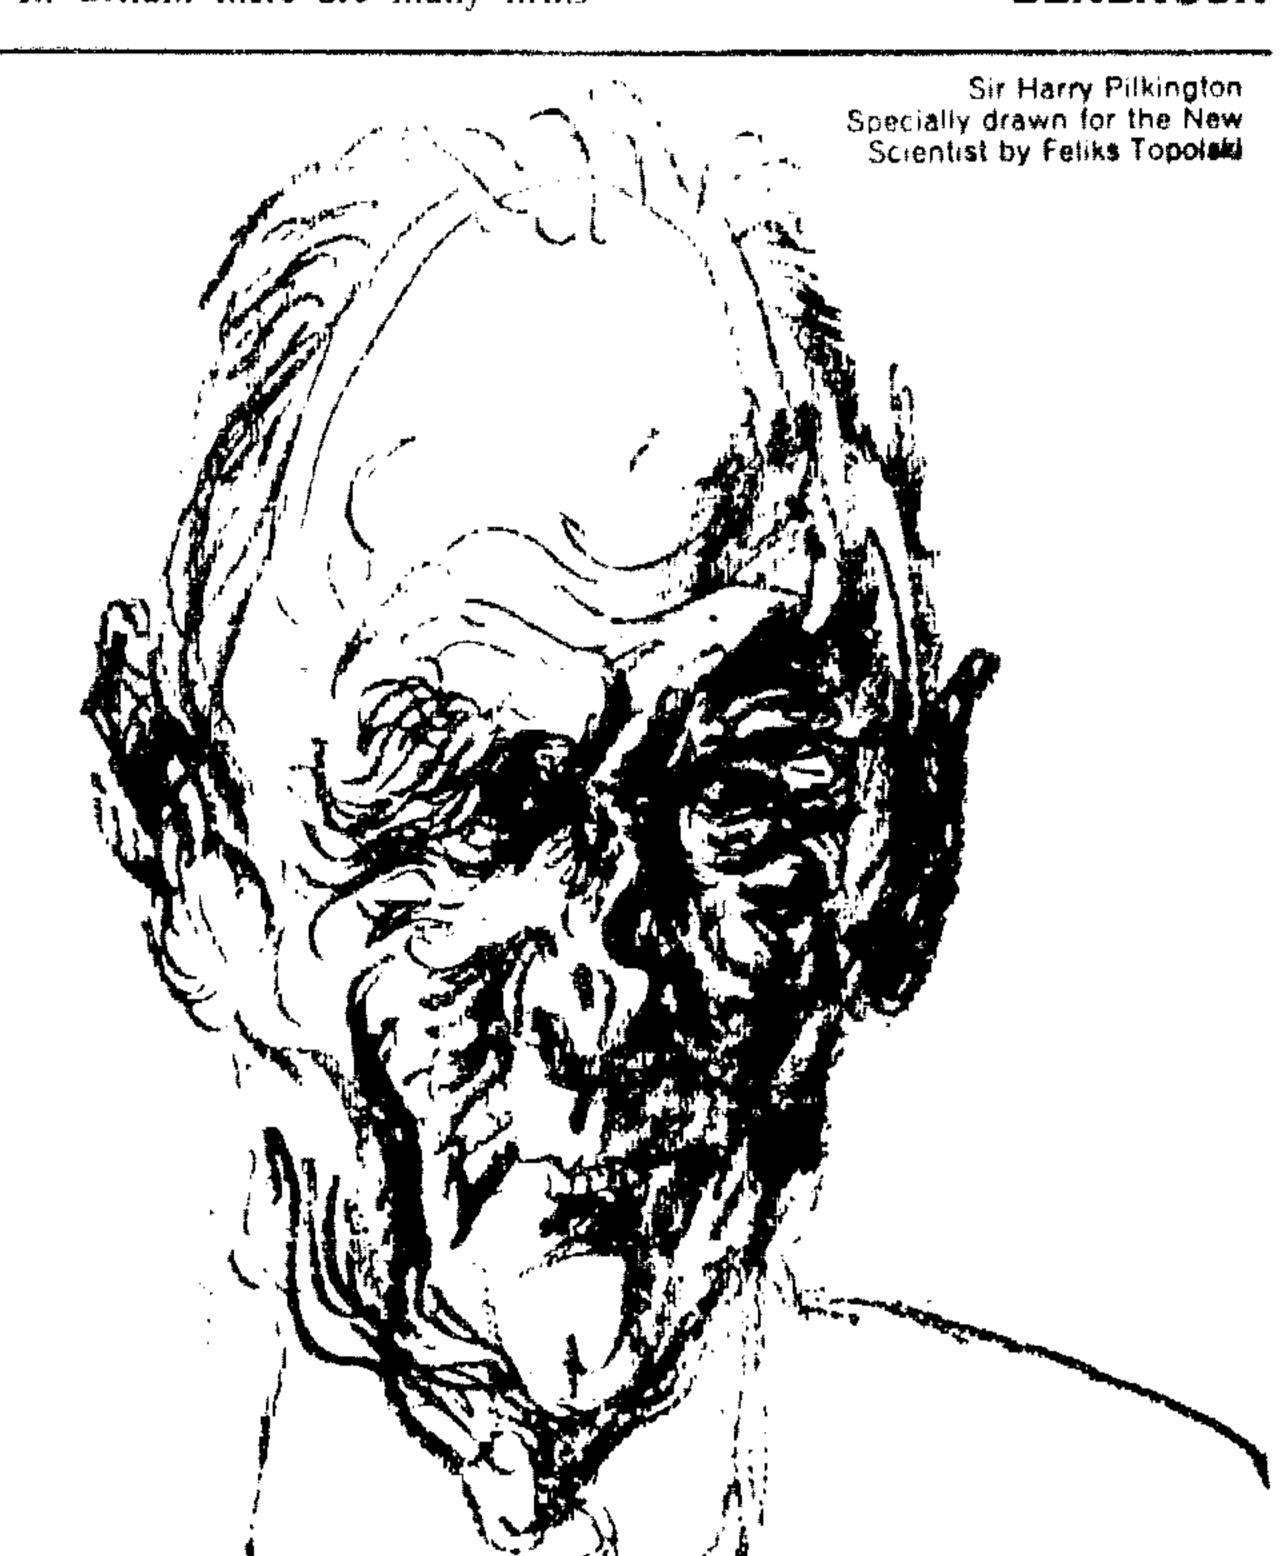

There is also the problem of labour restrictions on immigrants in many countries. So long as work is not available in "host" countries. the right of asylum is largely empty Appeal for Amnesty, 1961, aims to help towards providing suitable employment for political and religious refugees. It would be good if in each "host" country a central employment office for these people could be set up with the co-operation of the employers' federations, the trade unions and the Ministry of

In Britain there are many firms

also the year of the death of Lacordaire, the French Dominican opponof Bourbon and Orleanist

The success of the 1961 Amnesty Campaign depends on how sharply and powerfully it is possible to rally public opinion. It depends, too. upon the campaign being allembracing in its composition, international in character and politically impartial in direction. Any group is welcome to take part which is prepared to condemn persecution regardless of where it occurs, who is responsible or what are the ideas suppressed. How much can be achieved when men and women of good will unite was shown during World Refugee Year. Inevitably most of the action called for by Appeal for Amnesty, 1961, can only be taken by governments. But experience shows that in matters such as these governments are prepared to follow only where public opinion leads. Pressure of opinion a hundred years ago brought about the emancipation of the slaves. It is now for man to insist upon the same freedom for his mind as he has won for his body.

PETER BENENSON

Sir Harry Pilkington, Pilkington Bros. Ltd., says:-

"The New Scientist is helping to bring the opportunities and the challenge of the present scientific revolution in industry before a wider public, to show scientists the shape of the world into which their own activities must fit, and to stimulate nationally a keener interest in science.

"Over half of those things that now are regarded as essential to our modern standard of life are new inventions of this century; with the increasing pace of scientific in granon and with the greatly increased resources devoted to research and de eleganent, a further spate of new revolutionary benefits to mankind is assured. Anothing that quickens the approximan of these new opportunities. peralogical calls concealing faults, smoothing out tiny wrinkles and furrows, blending naturally. Two steps achieve this new, young look. First, smooth on Coty Instant Beauty, liquid makeup that exactly matches your skin tone. Then—and this is the magic ... AIRSPUN BEAUTY POWDER featherlight and fluffy, so fine it can't be seen . . . gives a poreless, flawless translucence. No other cosmetic can add more beauty to your skin.

The perfect make-up is invisible ...

INSTANT BEAUTY Tinted Make-up, covers shadows and lines, blends with your skin, spreads smoothly and evenly. 6 " AIRSPUN REAUTY POWDER, so fine, so clinging, so very flattering. 59

Butlin's new image

The second of "The Observer's" picture reports on aspects of The English Summer deals with a uniquely British but paradoxically Marxian concept of escapism. It also reveals

THE OBSERVER WEEKEND REVIEW

- 25 MOROCCAN NOTEBOOK
- 80.18011
- Sound Radio
- 26 Theatres 24 Universities

- celevision

- 34. Wine List 32:34 Women's Pages
- 39 Annenes Crossword 40 1111 N# 6 K

Advertisement Guide

26-27 Entertainments 38 Gardening 38-39 Property

Pauce

29-31 Books

25 Bridge

28 Chess

27 4 ilms

22, 38 LELIERS

26 Music

34 Cookery

27 Galleries

38 Gardening

35 Open Air

35 Property

40 Savings

35 Saleroom

38 Dodos of to-morrow

35 Architecture

36 Hotels 22 Personal Most franch

a subtle change in the technique of holiday-selling.

- 23 Saving the white rhino by Colin Willock
- by Hugh Massingham
- 26 The new Glyndebourne by Peter Heyworth
- 27 THITNISH N Maurice Richardson on "The Village Viewers"
- 28 PARIS PERSONATIVE I new monthly report by Barbara Bray

Page 24

29 NEW EXCITON

p. 36

PINEAPPLE

autostop

- by John Davenport 30 IN OUR LIMIT Sex and literary values by John Weightman
- Harold Nicolson reviews the diary of a 16th-century medical student
- 32 Sportswear for the mactive by Katharine Whitehorn 33 A girl's best friend
- by Elizabeth Gundrey 34 Miserable married women
- final diagnosis by Dilys Rowe

37 Time Off on the Broads by Pierre d'Harcourt

D7 II D I D

Seddi un avvocate ingent in the control of the cont

Britain

Samvittighed THE PARTY OF THE P

Sict på livetid at den genemminsterense.

Cerne. Fordi han er kommunisterense.

A per Laber. at den er kommunisterense.

A pen Laber. at den er kommunisterense.

Også den mationale offentiletterense.

Tondon 1961 til Det internationale flygtininger international flygtininger international flygtininger international flygtininger international flygtininger international gradual flygtininger international flygtininger intern

Total Commercial Comme

The control of the co

Hisso of andre regimer har larns, crint. In the same of the same o

Et alcuarite des virus de virus de virus des virus de virus de mesty 8DJ ( 413 5 Published by Amne

London WC1X 8I
Telephone: 071-41.

ty International, 1 Eas J United Kingdom 5500; Telex: 28502 Friedrich Andre 1976

Skritcher 1977

Skritcher 1977

Friedrich 1977

Friedric