KENYA: Joe Omwaka AGER, tour operator and Mary AGER, his wife (new name)

Joe Ager was arrested on 31 July 1990 for possessing a seditious publication and was bailed. He will reportedly stand trial on 27 September.

Amnesty International has learned that Mary Ager, the wife of Joe Ager, has also been arrested. She appeared in court before the Chief Magistrate in Nairobi on 11 September and was charged with the same offence as her husband - possession of a seditious publication. She was released on bail and will be tried with her husband. Their joint trial will reportedly start on 27 September.

The alleged seditious publication which she and her husband are accused of possessing, was an issue of the subscription newsletter Africa Confidential, which is published in London and widely read throughout Africa. The issue contained a critical article on the dominance of members of President Moi's ethnic group, the Kalenjin, in the security forces, government and civil service.

RECOMMENDED ACTIONS: Telegrams/telexes/express and airmail letters

- expressing concern that the authorities intend to proceed with prosecuting Joe Ager and Mary, his wife, for mere possession of a newsletter article criticizing the government but not banned in Kenya;
- stating that if convicted and imprisoned, they would be adopted by Amnesty International as prisoners of conscience and that their imprisonment for their opinions would violate the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, to which Kenya is a party;
- appealing for the sedition charge against them to be withdrawn;
- urging that they should not be charged.
