

Sudan: Ask for urgent investigations into accounts of torture

Updated 17 March 2004

This action is now closed

Summary

The amount of appeals generated by this web action prompted the Sudanese authorities to respond to Amnesty International regarding this case. An investigation has now been opened - however, there are fears that it may be delayed or subject to interference by security forces.

Abu Nigel El Amin, Juma Mahamoud and Ramadan Ismail remain living in the town of Dongola. Juma Omar El-Nur, having received treatment for his injuries sustained under torture, has resumed his job as a tailor.

Many thanks to all those who sent appeals.

Text of original appeal

Date of original appeal

7 October 2003