Death Pen

JORDAN Muhammad Jaghamin, 35

Ahmad Mohammad Subeh, 24

On 15 March 1999 Muhammad Jaghamin and Ahmad Mohammad Subeh were sentenced to death by the Amman Security Court. Ahmad Mohammed Subeh was tried in absentia. Two others, Wa'el Khalil and Kayed Mohammad, were sentenced to 20 years in prison. The four had been found guilty of murdering 12 people in two separate incidents which have become known as the "Rabia and Shmeisani" murders, after the places where the murders happened.

The case will be reviewed by the Court of Cassation within 30 days. If the Court of Cassation upholds the death penalty it will go to King 'Abdallah bin Hussein for ratification.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Amnesty International recognizes the horror caused by such multiple killings, but opposes the death penalty in all cases as the ultimate form of cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment. Capital punishment has never been shown to have a deterrent effect and the sentence is irrevocable.

In 1998, Jordan executed at least nine people.

RECOMMENDED ACTIONS: Please send telegrams/telexes/faxes/express/airmail letters in English or Arabic or your own language:

- expressing sympathy for the victims of violent crimes and their families and acknowledging the role of governments in bringing the perpetrators of such crimes to justice, but expressing unconditional opposition to the death penalty, which has never been shown to have a unique deterrent effect and which is brutalizing to all involved in its application;
- urging His Majesty King 'Abdallah bin Hussein to commute the death sentences on Muhammad Jaghamin and Ahmad Mohammad Subeh;
- urging that no more executions be carried out in Jordan and that the government work towards abolishing the death penalty.
