

INDONESIANurdin Juneh, 36

Nurdin Juneh was detained by the police in North Aceh on 4 July. Police have reportedly denied knowledge of his whereabouts, and Amnesty International fears he may be at risk of torture or "disappearance".

Nurdin Juneh and his brother were taken by members of the police mobile brigade (Brimob) from a coffee house at around 6pm. They were taken to the police sector building (Polsec) in Dewantara Sub-district. His brother was released shortly afterwards, but Nurdin Juneh was reportedly taken away by Brimob. The Polsec chief has reportedly denied knowledge of his whereabouts.

Nurdin Juneh and his brother, from Cot Dua village in Dewantara Sub-district, west of Lhokseumawe town, were reportedly questioned because the police claimed their motorbike had been used in a violent incident on 3 July.

It remains unclear whether this questioning is linked to a clash on 3 July between members of the armed opposition group Free Aceh Movement (Gerakan Aceh Merdeka, GAM) and the police, in which three police officers and one GAM member were reportedly killed.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

The human rights situation in Aceh has improved somewhat since an agreement between the Indonesian authorities and the armed opposition group Free Aceh Movement (Gerakan Aceh Merdeka, GAM) was implemented on 2 June. By signing up to this "humanitarian pause", both sides agreed to suspend armed operations to allow humanitarian aid to be delivered. Since then, however, there have been a series of clashes between the Indonesian security forces and GAM, leading to continued human rights abuses.

More than 300 people are reported to have been killed this year in Aceh, where serious human rights violations, including arbitrary arrests, torture, "disappearances" and killings have been routine. Many civilians have been killed or arbitrarily arrested by soldiers and police ostensibly trying to capture suspected GAM members. GAM have also been accused of serious human rights abuses.

Human rights defenders and humanitarian workers in Aceh are among those who have suffered harassment, intimidation and arrests over recent months.
