DENMARK Rabah Hamana, Nassima Hamana and child, Algerian asylum-seekers

The asylum claim of Rabah Hamana, Nassima Hamana and their child has been rejected on appeal by the Flytninge Naevnet (Board of Refugees) on the grounds that the appeal case did not contain new information which would have justified overturning the earlier negative decision. The case is now being looked into by an Ombudsman, but it is unlikely that this will result in the rejection being overturned.

After the police began the procedure for their deportation (see previous UA), the Hamana family went into hiding. Their current whereabouts are not known.

FURTHER RECOMMENDED ACTION: Please send telegrams/telexes/faxes/express/airmail letters in or in your own language:

- seeking clarification from the Danish authorities of the reasons for their rejection of the Hamana family's asylum claim;
- continuing to urge the authorities not to forcibly return them to Algeria where they are at risk of arbitrary detention, torture, "disappearance" or extrajudicial execution;
- continuing to remind the authorities of Denmark's obligation under the 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees, in particular Article 33, not to forcibly return anyone to a country where he or she would be at risk of serious human rights violations;
- continuing to remind the authorities of their duty under Article 3 of the UN Convention against Torture as well as Article 3 of the European Convention on Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, not to send people to countries where they may be at risk of torture.
- further urging the authorities to reconsider their assessment of the human rights situation in Algeria, in light of the recent information supplied by Amnesty International and other organizations, and of the mass killings and bombings which have taken place in Algeria in the last few months.
