

Electric shock torture by Egyptian police

Updated 17 March 2004

This action is now closed

Summary

An investigation into the torture of Wa'el Tawfiq remains yet to be launched. Amnesty International continues to call on the Egyptian government to bring those responsible to justice, and to bring to an end the widespread practice of torture in the State Security Investigations Departments and police stations in Egypt.

Thank you for everyone who took part in this action.

Text of original appeal

Date of original appeal

26 June 2003